Mrs. Shangle of 612 North Campbell street caused Worden's arrest. I did not care to appear against him and the case was dismissed."

Johnson were arrested by detectives on South El Paso street this morning, the former being docketed on charges of vagrancy and carrying a pistol, while the latter was charged with being a vagrant and suspicious character. GREEN COSTS THE LIVES OF MANY MINERS advancement of the organized mine workers. On account of the industrial depression, it has been very difficult, and impossible in most places, during the past year, to induce men to join the union. But as there are hopes and prospects of a revival along the industrial line, earnest consideration should be given the question of organization during the coming year.

"The dissemination in the official realm of our union should be given consideration at your hands. Unless the electioneering tactics which have disgraced our organization during the past two years, are prevented, there is but one result—the destruction of the power and effectiveness of our union. There are great possibilities within our grasp, but they can only be secured through singleness of purpose and unity of action."

The Nova Scotia Strike.

Mr. McCullough gave a resume of his work for the last nine months. Referring to the strike of mine workers in Nova Scotia, the report says: "The United Mine Workers have met every attack, combatted every foe; brain has been pitted against brain; money against money, right against wrong. The conflict has now entered into the seventh month, with hope bright and victory assured by a continuance of the same method and determination which has characterized the struggle so far."

MAKE THE MINE OWNERS RESPONSIBLE

"Hold Them for Loss of Life in Accidents; Accidents Will Stop."

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—Deplored the unprecedented loss of life in the mines of America in 1908 and 1909. Edwin Perry, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, declared in the convention today that "not until the function of protecting life is placed where it rightfully belongs, namely on the operator or mine owner, can we reasonably expect any material change."

"Continuing, he said: 'Nov. 13, one of the greatest mine disasters known in history, occurred at Cherry, Ill., where 299 lives were sacrificed, and yet, we, as a nation, boast of our progress and development, but are compelled to confess that human life becomes a secondary consideration as far as this important industry is concerned.'

"Well may we ask ourselves the question: 'How long will we permit this great human slaughter to continue, and see hundreds and thousands of our men carried to untimely graves?' We have every reason to believe that, with adequate protection through legislative enactments, the danger to life would be minimized at least threefold. All the legislation, unless accompanied by severe penalties, would not bring about the desired results."

Fix Responsibility.

"Not only should our laws provide every necessary safeguard, but what is of infinitely more importance, would be a liability law wherein the mine owners would be held financially responsible for injuries and loss of life."

Mr. Perry demanded that the convention should go on record in favor of remedial legislation in the several states, and by the federal government, to minimize the dangers that now surround the subterranean toilers. In this connection he made three suggestions, and said: "I would first recommend that we demand from congress a law that will tax every ton of coal mined, to provide a fund for our widows and orphans, rendered homeless as a result of mine accidents, and those injured and maimed should also become beneficiaries of this fund. Secondly, this convention should emphasize our position of former years, and demand the enactment of a law creating a bureau of mines and mining. And, thirdly, until such time as the function of protection of life is placed where it rightfully belongs, I suggest that we continue to enforce, through the power of our organization, such remedies as will make impossible a repetition of the appalling catastrophe which occurred at Cherry."

Mr. Perry outlined the formation of a permanent relief fund on the basis of the donation of one day's wages annually by each member of the miners' organization, to be augmented by an equivalent sum from the operators, to be used in cases of emergency in mine disasters.

Union Statistics.

Statistics of the financial condition of the organization were read by the secretary-treasurer, showing that the paid up membership for the current year is slightly in excess of that of 1905, the previous banner year, and also calling attention to the large decrease in surplus funds.

The expenditures were listed at $355,622, leaving a balance of $470,620.

Recommendations that organizers should be under the direction of the international president or executive board, and that the constitution be changed and made more specific on the question of exonerated and suspension of local unions, were made by Mr. Perry, who also recommended that the organization demand from congress amendments to the injunction laws to safeguard the

JUAREZ MARCHES TO END HIS LIFE; DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE AFFAIR

In the presence of "the woman," Elpidio Saloma placed a revolver against his breast and fired two shots on Diavolo street in Juarez this morning. He is at the city hospital and will not live.

"Love, of course, is said to be the cause of it. About 7 o'clock this morning Saloma, who is only 24 years of age, went to the room of Beatrice Moffett, a recent arrival from Tucson. According to the young woman, he shot himself without any argument over the matter.

Since the young man's wounds are unquestionably self-inflicted, there has been no investigation of the matter.

REPORTED RICH TIN STRIKE

It is reported that the Davis-Morehead-Conklin tin mine near Mundy Springs on the transpian slope of Mount Franklin has struck a bonanza vein and that there is enough pure tin in the vein just uncovered to furnish kitchen utensils for half the republic for all time to come. The mine is now being operated by the owners and, should the reported strike prove true, the mine will prove to be one of the richest holdings in the entire southwest, mining men say.

rights of laborers and labor organizations.

In conclusion, Mr. Perry said: "While much has been said in the past on the subject of political action and while I have nothing new to suggest, I want to emphasize the necessity on the part of our members for concerted political action, at all times."

STRIKE HAS NOT PROVED SUCCESS

President Lewis of the Mine Workers Would Eliminate Injunction.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—"The application of commonsense should be the basis of the new method of promoting industrial peace in the mining regions," according to the annual report of president Thomas L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, at the convention of the miners' organization.

With this as a keynote, the report continued, Mr. Lewis said: "The strike as a method of organizing has not proved a success. The enormous expenditure of funds and the tremendous waste of energy incident to industrial strife should be avoided. Our right to strike is never to be rendered, but it should be the very last resource, and every other means exhausted before a suspension of work is ordered or takes place."

Operators Fear Results.

"A large number of the miners are anxious and ready to organize, but lack of confidence in our ability to succeed causes them to be indifferent. Many of the operators are really not opposed to the miner's right to organize, but they are skeptical of our object, and fear the result. Let us appeal to the intelligence of the operator and miner in the nonunion mining districts."

"Perfect frankness in stating our position, and sincerity in carrying it out, effect our declarations, will do much to establish that confidence necessary to success."

Right to Organize.

Touching the right of mine workers to organize, president Lewis said: "It has been stated and repeated many times that labor unions are here to stay. Let us put ourselves on record in the most positive manner, that so long as we exist, we will stand right to combine with other employers to develop industry, accumulate wealth and buy labor at the cheapest possible rate, just that long will the mine worker insist on the right to organize with his fellow workers, and we will enforce the terms upon which we will sell our labor."

"Notwithstanding the tremendous impulse given to every movement through unity of purpose, there are some men among employers, labor and controllers of finance, who would deny that unity of action among laboring people that they, themselves, exercise in their everyday affairs. They cry down organization, and yet the laboring people under the false alarm of encroachment on 'individual liberty.' They arrogate to themselves to organize capital under the sacred name of 'vested rights.'"

New Method Proposed.

"The time is at hand to bring forcibly to the attention of this class of people that in an era of concerted effort, such as we have, there is no such thing as individual liberty among working people. If we are to cooperate with each other to secure a brighter future, capital and labor should cooperate and work together; but if there must be a struggle between the two, then men should and must be triumphant."

Pennsylvania Miners.

The report stated that the anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania employs 174,000 mine workers, about 20,000 of whom are organized, and explained the condition by saying: "An investigation and study of the anthracite situation convinces me that the workers to better their condition is due principally to their own indifference. The same condition applies to many of the bituminous mining districts."

Would Eliminate Injunction.

On the legislative features of mining interests, president Lewis spoke strongly in favor of a law to eliminate the injunction evil in labor disputes, and for the enactment of a general employers' liability law, and recommended the legalization of laboring unions.

On the wage contract feature of the workers' activity, president Lewis spoke in favor of the joint conference method of negotiating wage contracts, which he said, has done much to establish peace in the mining industry.

On the termination of contracts, he said: "You are aware that our wage agreements in nearly every bituminous district of the country terminate on March 31 of this year. Let me make it clear that there will be no reduction in wages, and as many improvements in the agreement as can be secured."

Wants Authority Defined.

President Lewis deplored what he termed a growing disposition to ignore the authority of the international organization and officers, and recommended that the convention define in exact terms the authority of the international organization and its subordinate branches. He denounced as the most dangerous enemy to the organization those within it who seek to disrupt the institution.

Do away with Stomach Disorder and Indigestion

In a Few Minutes Mi-o-na Will Purify a Tainted, Rancid Stomach and Banish Distress.

Let us talk plain English; let us call a spade a spade.

Let us tell the truth and say that if you are constantly distressed after meals, if you belch gas and have eructations of sour food, then your stomach is in a slovenly condition and should be purified and put in good shape at once.

Your food ferments, that's the trouble with you and with a million other dyspeptics. Your stomach isn't strong enough to digest the food you put into it.

And so your food rots, in some cases it rots and forms poisonous gases, and when it does leave your stomach and passes along into the bowels, it hasn't furnished proper nourishment to the blood, but it has left the stomach in a filthy condition.

Take Mi-o-na stomach tablets if you want to change your filthy stomach into a healthy, clean and purified one. Take Mi-o-na stomach tablets, which are guaranteed to cure indigestion, and rid yourself of dizziness, biliousness, nervous or sick headache, or money back.

Take Mi-o-na tablets if you want to make your stomach so strong that it will digest the heartiest meal without distress, and furnish good, clean, nutritious blood making elements to the body.
